PINK PIG

The Pink Pig was originally built around 1950 as a country store and Grist mill. It was later developed into a small BBQ stand. In 67' Bud asked his wife how she felt about owning a restaurant. She got excited and the adventure began. The Pink Pig went through a few hard times and name changes before it settled into the "Pink Pig" around '72. You can look around the restaurant to find some of the old original signs. "Claude's BBQ" and "The Holloway House"

Pit cooked BBQ, Bud's signature vinegar sauce, and homemade brunswick stew, slow cooked in a cast iron pot, makes this restaurant a local icon and a tourist treasure. Add the "world famous" garlic salad with dressing made from scratch and the boneless fried chicken and your mouth should be watering.

Founded by Mr. Bud, the tradition has been passed to his granddaughter, Samantha, and her husband, Jacob.

Between Jake, Sam, and their amazing staff, they are keeping Bud's dream alive while building some dreams of their own ... "This place was my grandpa's dream. Now this is our dream and his legacy."

Thank you for sharing in this journey with us. We hope you make it a family tradition of your own.
